KIMBALL AND SIGNATURE TO TAKE ON THE FORMULA 3 EUROSERIES

Charlie Kimball, the 2005 British Formula 3 Rookie of the Year, has set his sights on winning the Formula 3 Euroseries Championship in 2006. The young American will join forces with French powerhouse Signature to take the fight to the best young racing drivers in the world. Kimball plans to build on his very successful rookie year in Formula 3 where he had 5 race wins, 6 pole positions, 2 track records and a total of 13 podiums. Signature, the only non-Mercedes-Benz powered car to win a race in the 2005 Euroseries, is looking to make the most of its first year with the ever powerful German power plant.

Kimball commented on his new team, "I visited Signature before Macau and was very impressed by their whole operation. Once we made the decision that the Euroseries was where I wanted to be, the best option was obvious."

Team principal Philippe Sinault said of the new partnership, "Blah Blah Blah blah Blah."

Kimball will begin testing early March in preparation for the coming year. The Formula 3 Euroseries calendar is attached below.
